KANSAS STATE HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS—JANUARY 15, 1901.

The board of directors of the Kansas State Historical Society held its twenty-fifth annual meeting in "Newspaper hall," one of the new rooms recently assigned to the Society, on the fourth floor of the capitol building. Pres. John G. Haskell, being confined to his bed with malarial fever, E. B. Cowgill, first vice-president, presided.

The following members of the board were present: E. L. Ackley, J. B. Adams, E. B. Cowgill, John Francis, D. W. Houston, John Martin, J. B. Remington, Harvey D. Rice, Chas. F. Scott, R. H. Semple, Ed. R. Smith, A. B. Whiting, L. D. Whittemore, F. P. Baker, F. D. Coburn, E. P. Harris, F. H. Hodder, Lucy D. Kingman, Geo. Leis, Fletcher Meridith, John Madden, John Seaton, John Speer, Geo. W. Veale, P. G. Lowe, Geo. W. Martin, Horace L. Moore, L. F. Randolph, William Sims, W. H. Smith, Samuel G. Stewart, Fred L. Vandegrift, Fred. Wellhouse, R. M. Wright, Zu Adams, J. Ware Butterfield, Wm. E. Connelley, E. J. Dallas, Wm. J. Griffing, John Guthrie, and Mrs. Elizabeth A. Johnson.

F. P. Baker, for the committee on nominations, reported a list of officers and members of the board of directors for election in the evening. His report was unanimously adopted.

The following persons was then nominated for election as members of the Society:

Active members: Capt. William Mitchell, of Wabaunsee county, and Samuel J. Reader, of North Topeka, on nomination of Harvey D. Rice; W. B. Stone, Mrs. W. B. Stone, and Miss Irene Stone, of Galena, by Secretary Martin; Geo. W. Crane and C. C. Baker, of Topeka, A. H. Ellis, of Beloit, and R. A. Burch, of Salina, by W. H. Smith; W. M. Davidson, of Topeka, by Wm. E. Connelley; W. H. Rossington, of Topeka, by P. G. Lowe; Mrs. Fannie G. Thompson, of Topeka, by Lucy D. Kingman; Prof. Geo. H. Faillyer, of Manhattan, by Secretary Martin; Mrs. E. M. Fisher, of Topeka, by John Guthrie; Miss Lizzie E. Wooster, of Topeka, by Wm. E. Connelley; Lane Johnson, of Kansas City, by John Speer; J. C. Carpenter, of Chanute, by W. H. Smith.

Honorary members: Mrs. Caroline Prentis, of Topeka, by Fred L. Vandegrift; Mrs. S. S. Prouty, of Topeka, by John Speer; John H. Shimmons, of Lawrence, by John Guthrie.

Corresponding members: J. Lee Knight, of Topeka, T. D. Bancroft, of Kansas City, and G. A. Streeter, of Junction City, by Secretary Martin.

Wm. E. Connelley read the report of the committee on fees and membership, as approved for adoption by the meeting of the Society held May 1, 1900, and published in the twelfth biennial report, in the proceedings of that meeting. The report was accepted as an amendment to the constitution.

Miss Kingman reported for the committee on the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Society, that no action had been taken, and suggested that the removal of the Society into its elegant quarters on the fourth floor would be a fitting occasion for that celebration. The suggestion met with favor, and on motion Miss Kingman, Miss Adams and John Martin were appointed a committee on the celebration, and instructed to fix the date. The secretary was added to the committee, on motion of W. H. Smith.

Horace L. Moore reported for the committee on genealogy that a bill had been prepared and introduced in the legislature to compel proper registration of marriage certificates. On motion of Wm. E. Connelley, the report was accepted, and the committee directed to press the adoption of the bill by the legislature.

Letters of regret from the following members of the board were read: John G. Haskell, J. E. Junkin, S. H. Dodge, E. F. Ware, J. W. Conway, and F. C. Montgomery.

E. J. Dallas presented the Society with a copper cent of 1801.

W. H. Smith moved that a committee of three be appointed by the chair on needed amendments to the constitution, chiefly the revision of portions relating to the date of holding the annual meetings and of the closing of the fiscal year of the Society. The motion was adopted, and the committee was instructed to report on the occasion of the twenty-fifth anniversary.

On motion of Secretary Martin, a committee to consist of Prof. S. W. Williston, Wm. J. Griffing, Mrs. Elizabeth A. Johnson and Prof. Frank W. Blackmar was appointed to examine and collect for the museum of the Society archaeological relics from the mounds and deserted village sites of the aborigines of Kansas. The committee is expected to make careful notes of their examinations. It was also voted that the fee fund of the Society could be drawn on in payment for the manual labor required in the investigations.

After considerable discussion and amendment of a motion of W. B.

Stone, a committee consisting of John Martin, together with the president and secretary of the Society, was appointed to prepare a memorial for the legislature to present to Congress, requesting that the ruins of the old capitol at Pawnee, situated upon the Fort Riley military reservation, be ceded to the state, together with a sufficient tract of land surrounding the building. The committee was also instructed to take steps for the preservation of other historic spots in Kansas, such as the ruins of Constitution hall, Lecompton, Pike's Pawnee Indian village, in Republic county, and the placing of tablets marking the sites of such buildings as the territorial capitol at Lecompton, Free-state hotel at Lawrence, etc.

The meeting then adjourned.

MEETING OF THE SOCIETY—JANUARY 15, 1901.

Immediately after the close of the meeting of the board of directors the Society assembled to listen to the following papers:

"Wardens of the Marches," by John Madden, Emporia. "Frontier Experiences on the Plains of Western Kansas," by R. M. Wright, of Dodge City. "Development of the Gypsum Interest of Kansas," by Erasmus Haworth, of the State University. "Southwestern Kansas," by T. A. McNeal. "Expositions in the History and Development of States and Peoples," by Miss Mary E. Frost, of Topeka.

The two other papers given on the program of the meeting, viz., "The Genesis of a Metropolis," by Frank H. Betton, of Kansas City, and "Recollections of Fort Riley," by P. G. Lowe, of Leavenworth, were not read, but filed for publication in the seventh volume of Collections of the Society.

On motion of John Martin, all the papers read before the meeting were requested to be filed for publication.

The Society then adjourned, to meet in Representative hall in the evening.

The regular twenty-fifth annual meeting of the Society convened in the hall of the house of representatives and was called to order by the vice-president, E. B. Cowgill, at 7:30 p. m.

Rev. J. D. Countermeine, D. D., pronounced the invocation.

On motion of John Guthrie, a copy of Fred L. Vandegrift's paper on Noble L. Prentis, published in the Kansas City Star, was requested for publication.

Thirty-three members of the board of directors for the three years ending December 1, 1903, were then elected as follows: Miss Zu Adams, Topeka; Frank W. Blackmar, Lawrence; J. Ware Butterfield, Topeka; Harold T. Chase, Topeka; Wm. E. Connelley, E. J. Dallas, Topeka; E. R. Fulton, Marysville; Chas. S. Gleed, Topeka; Wm. J. Griffing, Manhattan; John Guthrie, Topeka; Grant W. Harrington, Hiawatha; John G. Haskell, Lawrence; Scott Hopkins, Horton; A. H. Horton, Topeka; Mrs. Mary V. Humphrey, Junction City; A. S. Johnson, Topeka; Mrs. Elizabeth A. Johnson, Courtland; V. J. Lane, Kansas City; P. G. Lowe, Leavenworth; Geo. W. Martin, Kansas City; J. D. Milliken, McPherson; Horace L. Moore, Lawrence; E. N. Morrill, Hiawatha; F. O. Popenoe, Topeka; L. F. Randolph, Nortonville; Alvah Shelden, El Dorado; William Sims, Topeka; W. H. Smith, Marysville; Samuel G. Stewart, Topeka; Fred L. Vandegrift, Kansas City; Fred. Wellhouse, Topeka; A. L. Williams, Topeka; R. M. Wright, Dodge City.

On motion of John Guthrie, a vote of thanks was extended to John H. Shimmons, of Lawrence, for the loan to the Society for this occasion of the plaster bust of Gen. James H. Lane, and to John Speer, through whose instrumentality the loan was secured. John Guthrie also included in the motion a request that Mr. Shimmons donate to the Society the bust, which is considered a very correct representation of General Lane. John Speer expressed a hope that the bust would be given to the Society. It was made during General Lane's term as United States senator, and was one of twenty-five; he knew of the existence of but one other, that belonging to Mrs. Annie Lane Johnson, of Kansas City.

T. D. Bancroft, of Kansas City, then presented the Society with a memento of Abraham Lincoln, a drop of the president's blood, which fell on a program as he was being carried from his box at the theater. Mr. Bancroft saw it fall, and preserved the paper. He had it framed for the Society. On motion of W. B. Stone, a rising vote of thanks was given the donor.

On motion of W. H. Smith, the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the Historical Society regrets the illness of the president, John G. Haskell, and his enforced absence from this meeting, and tenders him our wishes for his speedy restoration and for many years of health.

The address of President Haskell, on "The Passing of Slavery in Western Missouri," was omitted because of his illness, as was also that of F. C. Montgomery, on "Northwestern Kansas," for the same reason. The other papers on the printed program were read, as follows:

"An Omitted Chapter in the History of the Second Missouri Compromise," by Prof. F. H. Hodder, of the State University.

The paper on Lorenzo D. Lewelling was read by the secretary, because of the enforced absence of the author, W. J. Costigan.

"Capt. Henry Kuhn," a memorial paper by C. E. Foote, who prefaced the reading by remarks in appreciation of the relic of President Lincoln, which had just been presented.

"Discovery and Development of Natural Gas in Kansas," by Chas. F. Scott, of Iola.

"The Sources of the Constitution of Kansas," by Miss Rosa M. Perdue, of the State University.

Music was furnished by the Little Prim quartet.

On motion of W. H. Smith, copies of the papers read at the evening meeting were requested for publication.

The meeting then adjourned.

REPORT OF THE SECRETARY FOR 1901.

The year 1901 has been an eventful one with the Kansas State Historical Society. The ambition and the hope of the fathers have been realized, and the history of Kansas and of this people has at last an orderly and reputable abiding place.

There have been added to the collection during the year 743 books, 2590 pamphlets, 191 manuscripts, 115 maps, atlases, and charts, 324 pictures, 80 scrip, coin and miscellaneous relics, 1412 volumes of newspapers and magazines, and 61 single newspapers. Of these, 4380 have been procured by gift and 136 by purchase.

The legislature of 1899 directed the executive council to prepare rooms for and remove the material in the custody of this Society, the expense of the same to be paid out of the capitol-building fund. Accordingly, in March, 1891, a contract was made for shelving, and in August the removal from the ground floor to the fourth floor was begun. All the space definitely assigned to the Society was shelved and otherwise placed in order. This leaves us at this writing with books unprovided for sufficient to fill another room. There are two rooms unoccupied adjoining, but they lack the shelving. The Kansas newspapers have been properly cared for in the large room assigned for that purpose and in the annex, or waste space over the south portico of the building. In these newspaper shelves there is provision for three and possibly four years' growth. The duplicates of the Society, or rather the accumulations of the entire state government, will be gathered in a fine, large concreted room in the cellar. These surplus books have been dumped in the cellar, and stowed in all manner of out-of-the-way places, and thus rendered wholly unavailable and useless. I remembered seeing several wagon-loads in the garret of the east wing twenty-five years ago.

In the completion of the capitol building, the manual construction of the various parts was not the only responsibility placed upon the executive council. The readjustment of space, and the suitable preparation of apartments for given uses, has been quite a serious one, involving an arbitrary expenditure of money upon their own judgment and responsibility often perplexing. They are not dealing with current needs. They are placing in order the uncared-for labors of forty years, and in some instances repeating work which has been done time and again. In the work they have done for this Society they have been compelled to face and provide for a lifetime of accumulations, and from now on the current annual care will cost less than the constant patching and pulling about unavoidable in the condition of the building for twenty years past. In their preparations for this Society they have been careful and prudent, but patriotic and liberal.

The task of removal affords an opportunity to assort the collections to some extent and, in a general way, to take an inventory. All foreign newspaper files were left in the cellar, and only the Kansas papers, the Kansas City papers and three or four newspaper publications of a national character placed on the shelves on the fourth floor. The pictures have been placed upon the walls with judgment and taste—thanks to the courtesy and assistance of Mr. George M. Stone—the guns, flags and banners properly displayed, and, in several handsome new show-cases, the relics and curios have become objects of interest to hundreds of daily visitors. The newspaper files are arranged by counties, alphabetically, so that every single volume is easy of access.

I think the collections gathered by this Society most remarkable in completeness and in quality, with a minimum of what critics—who have never seen it and who have no idea of its use—call trash. Considering the years it covers, and the activity of the people whose doings have made it, the breadth of the foundation on which it was started, the fact that it is the only institution of the kind, and that it does all this work, whereas in some states several organizations cover the same field, this collection is none too large. Of course, there is trash in it. There is trash everywhere. If the Society had always been as well located as it is to-day, the quantity of its material would have been larger, with the result of lowering the per cent. of trash. The question of trash has existed since the world began. Trash abounds in all collections, and in all books, and, if unnecessary, it is at least harmless. It is not near as annoying to the investigator as the thing he wants and cannot find. It is maintained and perpetuated because, after all, what is trash is a matter of personal judgment. Everybody who gives any thought to the subject of trash runs up against the same stump. We are told that there is two-thirds trash and one-third useful, but the objector adds, "Who will pick out the one-third?" And there you are.

After hearing this talk, and observing what men and women call for, their different desires, and the singular and important uses they have for what I fail to see anything in, it is my judgment that if a committee of the legislature, or a committee of citizens, were to attempt to cull out of this collection, or any other collection of books and papers, what is called trash, they would soon explode in a row or be subjects for the insane asylum. The national government keeps everything, and aims to keep them always. Great business institutions are careful about the preservation of all papers used in their transactions representing money or property. Ninety individuals out of a hundred are as loath to destroy an old paper of their own as they are to stick their hands in the fire. So I conclude that the judgment of wise men in all ages, and of men of to-day who have an instinct in this line of work, that a proper collection of historical material must embrace everything, is the safest course. The importance of keeping old papers is emphasized here every week and every day.

The collection will also continue to grow and need more room from year to year. There is no doubt of this, because the world is moving faster, and the state of Kansas will surely keep in the front and in sight of the flag. The state will continue to do business; it will grind out books, pamphlets, and papers, and the people, in their various avocations and organizations, will continue to keep the flies off, conceiving, discussing, stirring, and accomplishing, as the years roll on. Here, within the collections of this Society, all efforts close up. Here we have the results, whether of success or failure. The Society was organized for this purpose, and with every session of the legislature its work has been heartily indorsed. As far as it is possible for it to reach, from the man of the most prominence and fame down to the humblest, the biography of the citizen is secured, and histories of men in all lines of usefulness are here preserved. The average annual increase henceforth may not be as great, because, in addition to current work, in the past, many back years had to be brought up. But that this library will continue to grow, and its contents to become more valuable and interesting with age, is as sure as that this people will continue active and earnest.

Indeed, when we consider the stupendous figures which stand for the development of Kansas since the beginning—and this is the greater history and not the political scraps and battles which waste and do not build—it strikes me that this collection is quite modest in its proportions. From starvation and beggary in 1861, with four years of the destructiveness of war before work began, we have reached a grand total of $348,292,384 of agricultural and live-stock products for the year 1901. Manufacturing establishments in 1861 numbered 344, paying $880,346 in wages; while in 1901 we had 7830 manufactures, paying wages to the amount of $19,573,375. We have $66,827,362 invested in manufactures, and they produced, in 1900, $172,129,398 in manufactured articles. We have 10,193 miles of railroad, and during the year 1901 one single line received 4500 new freight-cars and 75 new locomotives, at the rate of two a day, with an order out at end of year for 120 more locomotives. About all the complaint before the Board of Railroad Commissioners is that the companies cannot get cars fast enough to haul our products out of the state. In 1863 the state had 564 school-teachers, who drew salaries to the amount of $24,845. Now we have 12,400 teachers, drawing salaries aggregating about $5,000,000 annually. We have $7,021,958 in our permanent school fund, and in public schools, academies, denominational schools and universities we have invested $20,386,158. The legislature of 1861 expended $46,735.29, while the legislature of 1901 appropriated $5,371,754.58. The supreme court has just issued its sixty-second volume of reports, besides ten volumes for the appellate courts, and we now have seven judges busy all the time. The constitution started the state off with ten state officers, and some of them scarcely needed a desk; in fact, one desk would have sufficed for all of them. To-day there are eighteen additional officers, boards, and commissions, and these twenty-eight officers, with a horde of clerks and employees, are all busy, occupying a $2,500,000 building, with nine acres of floor space, and it is pretty near full. Who then dreamed of a mineral development for Kansas? And yet the output of mineral in 1900 was $14,193,946. In a score of other lines of business development the figures are as startling. It is really questionable, in view of such wonderful results, and the political scrapping for which we have been famous, whether the Society has gathered too much trash or any trash, or whether it has not been negligent and overlooked something.

The feature of this collection which raises the greatest question is the extent and care of the newspaper files. These files are of great value, and their bulk seems quite large. But here again the question of discrimination is as impossible of solution, short of saving none or all. Kansas was a leader in this style of historical collection, and now that much older states are vigorously engaged in doing the same, it is not likely that Kansas will, at the present at least, call a halt. These files are now all on shelves, with room for three years' growth. Nearly half of them are in a waste place over the south corridor of the building. The same waste place exists at the north end of the building, fourth floor, which will provide room for newspaper files for twelve years to come. So that there need be no worry about the newspaper files for fifteen years yet. We have ceased binding foreign papers, excepting four or five of a national character, and during the year many contributions of this character were rejected. Each year facts are obtained from these newspaper files, to be found nowhere else, of sufficient importance to more than repay to the individual property-holder and the public the cost of their keeping.

A proper exhibit of the duplicates of the Society, and the surplus books of the state now mixed up as a debris in the cellar, on shelves in a comfortable work-room, such as has been provided, will enable us to relieve the congestion to a considerable extent. We have constant calls for Kansas books, and we are confident we can place from 8000 to 10,000 volumes in the next six months in places where they will be preserved. In the last six weeks we have shipped 1700 Kansas books and pamphlets to five different institutions, and about 700 copies of government publications to one institution.

The legislature of 1901 did much in the interest of this Society. A bill became a law forbidding the loaning of newspaper files, books, manuscripts, etc., out of the state-house, and making certified copies of the records competent evidence in the courts. The senate and the house of representatives each created a standing committee on the Historical Society. One additional employee was voluntarily given, and salaries were raised. Without a dissenting vote, $3000 was given to mark the site of Pike's Pawnee village. A concurrent resolution was unanimously adopted asking the general government to cede to the state one acre from the Fort Riley military reserve on which is located the first capitol building. Pending action by Congress, the war department has issued to the Society a revocable license, giving temporary charge of the building, and there has been placed upon each end of the building a sign, in large letters, indicating that it was the first capitol of Kansas.

The demonstrations in Republic county in honor of Pike and the flag will stand among the most interesting events in the history of the state. A large concourse of people gathered on the 4th of July to participate in a corner-stone laying by the Masonic lodge of Belleville, when instructive and patriotic speeches were made by Gov. William E. Stanley, Hon. Henry L. Mason, of Garden City, Mrs. Margaret Hill McCarter, of Topeka, and Hon. John W. Haughey, of Wellington. On the 30th of September the monument was unveiled, when double the number of the previous crowd attended. It was a gala-day for the people of Republic, Cloud and Jewell counties. Col. John C. Carpenter, of Chanute, Hon. Noah L. Bowman, of Garnett, Hon. F. Dumont Smith, of Kinsley, Hon. William T. Short, of Concordia, Miss Helen Kimber, of Parsons, and Hon. W. A. Calderhead, of Marysville, entered earnestly into the spirit of the occasion, and talked inspiringly to the people. The Sixth battery of field artillery, United States army, Capt. Granger Adams commanding, from Fort Riley, attended and participated in the exercises. Hon. C. E. Adams, of Superior, Neb., on both occasions represented the sister state of Nebraska, and contributed much to the spirit of patriotism. The deed by Mrs. Elizabeth A. Johnson and George Johnson was modified so as to require only that the visible remains of the village be enclosed with fence. Accordingly, but six acres of the eleven deeded the state were enclosed with an iron fence, costing $1150, and a Barre, Vt., granite shaft, twenty-six feet high, was put up, at a cost of $1750.

The line of Coronado's march in 1541 and the location of the province of Quivira are of increasing interest. The number of archæologists and explorers, studying the matter enlarges as time passes; they are industrious and persistent, and it seems with each year that the results of their labors are more definite in establishing Kansas as the location of the mysterious country to the north from whence came only stories of gold, silver, and great cities. A majority of those who have investigated and written upon this first exploration of the interior of the continent agree that Kansas was visited by Coronado, but there are those who are becoming definite and are giving much local zest to the matter. Mr. J. V. Brower, an eminent archæologist, explorer, and author, has published two volumes of surpassing interest, "Quivira," and "Harahey," in which he locates the villages of Quivira, visited by Coronado, along the south side of the Kansas and Smoky Hill rivers, from Mill creek, in Wabaunsee, to Lyon creek, in Dickinson, principally. He locates villages as follows: In Pottawatomie county, eleven; Wabaunsee, ten; Riley, eleven; Geary, twenty; Dickinson, four; Marion, one; McPherson, six; Rice, one; Barton, one. Mr. Brower has visited this region once and twice a year, beginning with 1896. He has gathered thousands of the stone implements on the sites represented by him, after the most patient investigation, and he has enlisted the greatest interest among the people in the localities named. He has been assisted by J. T. Keagy and E. A. Killian, of Alma, W. J. Griffing, of Manhattan, and Robert Henderson, of Junction City; and so confident are they of their work, that they propose to erect a monument in honor of Coronado's march, in Logan grove, south of the Smoky Hill, opposite Junction City. Mr. Brower's researches and publications will have a far-reaching effect among explorers and students in establishing Quivira in the heart of Kansas. He is a Minnesota man, and hence is operating without bias, being influenced solely by his own investigation and judgment, and paying his own bills, including the handsomest of publications.

For the first time in years our historical library proper is shelved so as to admit of easy reference. It will enable us to fill incomplete sets of historical society publications and state records, where early volumes are still obtainable. Many of these will necessarily be purchased, being out of print, and in the hands of retail dealers. The Southern states, in very recent years, have revived the work of their historical societies or established new ones. These publications can only be obtained by purchase, as the societies are supported by subscription, and sell their prints to pay for publication.

The New England Historical and Genealogical Society proposes to publish the vital statistics of 190 towns in Massachusetts not already printed, giving the births, marriages and deaths from the settlement until 1845, at a cost of about one cent a page, bound. Such material is invaluable, and is obtained mostly from parish records. As the editions will be limited, we hope to purchase the volumes as issued.

We have many calls from Kansas people for the local historical and genealogical records of the more eastern states. Our book fund is too limited to do all we could wish in the purchase of such material. It would be gratifying if Kansans whose family histories have been printed would donate the volumes to the Society and thus supplement the genealogical library we are anxious to secure.

Horace L. Moore, of Lawrence, prepared a bill providing for more perfect records concerning births and marriages, in line with discussions had in this Society for some years past concerning vital statistics. The bill was introduced in the senate and the house. It not only failed to receive the slightest consideration, but the title and the numbers were lost, so that copies of the bill were beyond identification and recovery. I can only account for it by a lack of interest, and the overwhelming amount of business crowded into fifty days. I know of Colonel Moore's persistent work along this line, and all must regret that no attention was given it. Some day such a law will be enacted, but years are being lost.

George J. Remsburg, of Atchison, has a very valuable archaeological collection, now boxed up and stored away, which he offers to deposit with the Society conditionally; but we are without suitable cases. Kansas has furnished the world some of the most remarkable of such evidences of antiquity, while our own people have been negligent or perhaps sneering at the "cranks" who have taken elsewhere collections held by Eastern universities and institutions as of rare value.

During the year the Society received from John H. Shimmons a handsome bust and crayon picture of James H. Lane, and some very rare newspaper files. We are also to have a marble bust of F. B. Sanborn, of Concord, Mass., a devoted friend of early Kansas. Mrs. John J. Ingalls writes that, upon her death, according to her distinguished husband's will, a fine oil painting of the senator will come to the Society. Mrs. Mary L. Stearns, of Boston, since the year closed, and a few weeks prior to her death, sent to the Society a large number of letters written by Kansans to her husband during the years 1857 to 1861. These letters pertain to public questions, and afford interesting light on how the state was started on a certain course. We have several promises of like material; procrastination, however, is not only the thief of time, but it often permits death to intervene between good intentions and their performance.

The Society prepared a chronology of the territory and state for Harper's Encyclopedia of United States History, and a very complete statistical and descriptive article about Kansas for a United States gazetteer. We have prepared for the geographer of the United States Geological Survey statements of the origin of the names of counties and towns of Kansas. These articles called for more than three months of careful investigation and necessitated the writing of hundreds of letters.

The service of the collection to the public and the work in the rooms were greatly embarrassed by the task of removal. In the historical and genealogical department, our experience is that a greater number of people call to consult books along this line and of a reference nature than previously in our old quarters down-stairs, and we take it it is because things are now in order. We are not able to make accurate statements of visitors, because of the interruptions. In the newspaper room, a count, with at least three months omitted, shows 5700 visitors, and that 2752 patrons called for 4481 volumes of newspaper files. This is a greater number of patrons than for the whole of the last year, but it shows only half the number of volumes used, which may be accounted for by the lesser time and the fact that in the previous year there was a presidential campaign. The number of people examining the cases containing relics and curios has increased largely.

There are still several of the "first things" in Kansas to be gathered, and as radibly as we can find suitable parties to work them up, we solicit and urge. Two papers by members of the history class of the State University attract much attention because of their originality and practical value. The paper by Miss Rosa M. Perdue on "The Sources of the Constitution of Kansas," on file with us, is the subject of much favorable comment from lawyers. Miss Anna Heloise Abel, of the university, has been at work for a year or more on a paper entitled "The Establishment of Indian Reservations in Kansas and the Extinction of their Titles," and all regret that she has been unable to complete it for this meeting. This paper will be of infinite value, involving an amount of labor that but few would attempt. Hon. Eugene F. Ware has promised a paper on the first legislation for Kansas, discovered by him "in boring for water in the great Arkansas valley"; that is, in the law case for water rights between the states of Kansas and Colorado. Hon. A. R. Greene is at work on a paper concerning the first land-offices in Kansas, the bounds of the districts, how they were merged, and how our first land titles came. Hon. E. J. Dallas, from his large experience in the post-office department, has given us a list of the first post-offices in Kansas.

The most astounding incident in our history came to my attention during the year, and that is the gradual, constant and most remarkable decrease in freight-rates, and the improvement in our railway service. This is a rare chapter of our history, wholly lost in the selfishness and bitterness of political campaigns, so that few know of the wonderful development in the means and cost of our transportation. I have solicited from the railway companies like figures from the start down to the end of the century. I know of nothing that would be more astonishing and instructive to our people.

Mr. E. L. Ackley, a director of this Society, died at his home, in Concordia, during the year. He was a young man, an enthusiastic Kansan, and was greatly interested in the work of the Society, contributing much to its usefulness. His friends have promised to furnish a sketch of his life.

John Guthrie presented his report as treasurer, which was accepted.

William Sims, of the executive committee, then approved the financial report, as follows:

Active members were then nominated for election at the evening meeting of the board.

L. D. Whittemore, for the committee on nominations, presented a list of thirty-three members for the board of directors for election at the annual meeting of the Society and a list of officers for election at the evening meeting of the board. The report was accepted.

Prof. Frank W. Blackmar reported for the committee on archæology that Wm. J. Griffing and himself had made a careful examination of a large burial mound on McDowell creek, Geary county, in June, 1901, being rewarded by a small flint ax, found near the surface. In the same month Dr. S. W. Williston and Mr. Griffing, accompanied by Mrs. Elizabeth A. Johnson, visited the site of Pike's Pawnee Indian village, in Republic county. Here were found many small fragments of Indian pottery, a few flint and limestone implements, fragments of the bones of animals, and some relics of their intercourse with white men, consisting of bits of copper vessels and scraps of iron. During the summer Mr. Griffing gathered pottery and flint implements on his farm on Wild Cat creek, Riley county, some rusted steel knives from the site of the Kaw village abandoned in 1830, at the junction of the Blue and Kansas rivers, on the Welcome Wells farm. On the edge of this old village he also found, about two feet below the surface, fragments of smooth pottery, which evidently belonged to an earlier period. These relics, found at different times and places, are now in the Society's rooms.

The report was accepted and the committee continued.

The board then adjourned.

MEETING OF THE SOCIETY—JANUARY 21, 1902.

Immediately upon the adjournment of the board of directors the Society convened.

Wm. E. Connelley presented the reports of the committee on the revision of the constitution. The amended sections were read and approved separately, and the whole adopted, as follows:

It is recommended by the special meeting of the Society, held in the directors' room, Tuesday, December 17, 1901, at three o'clock P. M., that the following amendments be made to the constitution :

1. That section V of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows, to wit: "V. The annual meeting of the Society shall be held in Topeka on the first Tuesday in December; and those members, not less than ten, who meet at any annual or special meeting of the Society upon the call of the board of directors, shall be a quorum for the transaction of business."

2. That section IX of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows, to wit: "IX. The secretary and treasurer shall give satisfactory bonds, in such sums as the board of directors may deem proper, for the faithful performance of their respective duties, and for the faithful preservation of property of every kind in custody of the Society; and such bonds shall be filed with the secretary of state after approval by the board of directors."

3. That section XI of the constitution be amended so as to read as follows, to wit: "XI. The secretary is hereby authorized and directed to cause the bills for the annual dues of active members to be made out and sent to the address of such members on or before the 1st day of July of each year, with a copy of this article, and if the amount of such dues is not paid to the treasurer of this Society after the third notice of the secretary, those members in arrears shall be dropped from the roll of membership. The term of annual membership shall begin from and after the 1st day of July of each year."

4. That said constitution be amended by the addition of section XIV, as follows, to wit: "XIV. The fiscal year of this Society shall commence on the 1st day of July in each year and close on the 30th day of June next succeeding."

Papers were read as follows:

"History of Lead and Zinc Mining in Southeastern Kansas," by Miss Irene G. Stone, Galena. "Mother Bickerdyke," by Mrs. Julia A. Chase, Hiawatha. Prof. J. D. Walters, of the State Agricultural College, presented a history of that institution which had been prepared and published for the use of the Columbian Exposition of 1893, and since amended. From this manuscript he read extracts relating to the foundation of the college and the work of its earlier presidents. G. Webb Bertram, of Oberlin, presented his paper on "Reminiscences of Northwest Kansas," unread.

The meeting then adjourned until evening.

The evening meeting was held in Representative hall. Rev. H. D. Fisher pronounced the invocation. The thirty-three members of the board of directors nominated at the afternoon meeting of the board were elected, as follows:

At the close of the papers, Rev. H. D. Fisher presented to the Society the portraits of himself and wife, taken shortly after the Quantrill raid. On motion of E. B. Cowgill, the thanks of the Society were extended to Doctor Fisher for the gift.

John Guthrie moved that a vote of thanks be given the ladies and gentlemen who had presented papers at both sessions of the Society, and that they be requested to give the Society copies of their papers.

TWENTY-SEVENTH ANNUAL MEETING.

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS—DECEMBER 2, 1902.

The twenty-seventh annual meeting of the board of directors of the Kansas State Historical Society was held in the hall of the house of representatives December 2, 1902, beginning at 1:30 p. m.

The president, William H. Smith, presided.

There were present: William H. Smith, John G. Haskell, Clad Hamilton, E. B. Cowgill, Frank H. Hodder, A. B. Whiting, Fred. Wellhouse, William E. Richey, Lucy D. Kingman, Fannie G. Thompson, George W. Martin, W. H. Carruth, William Sims, Floyd P. Baker, William J. Griffing, J. Ware Butterfield, J. S. Dawson, L. D. Whittemore, E. P. Harris, John Guthrie, Margaret Hill McCarter, J. E. Junkin, Charles W. Barnes, George W. Veale, Caroline Prentis, and Zu Adams.

Mr. Clad Hamilton, for the committee on nominations, reported a list of thirty-three members of the Society for nomination as members of the board of directors for the three years ending December, 1905, and a list of active and corresponding members and officers, for election at the evening meetings of the Society and board. On motion of Mr. Guthrie, the report was accepted. The committee also reported two resolutions, which were referred to the evening meeting of the Society for action.

Mrs. Thompson then presented, in behalf of the Daughters of the Revolution, a request that the Historical Society cooperate with that organization in the preparation of a map showing the line of travel of the Santa Fe trail through Kansas. It was believed that the citizens along the trail would take pride in marking its course with inexpensive monuments of stone.

Mr. Whiting approved of this undertaking, and suggested the propriety of including in the map the routes of the emigration to Utah, Oregon, California, and Pike's Peak.

The following resolution offered by Mr. Cowgill was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the directors recommend to the Society a commission of three persons, of which Mrs. Thompson shall be chairman, to prepare a map of Kansas showing the route of the Santa Fe and other historic trails.

The report of the board of directors was then read by Secretary Martin, for the fractional year beginning November 1, 1901, and ending June 30, 1902, which, on motion of Mr. Guthrie, was adopted:

The year 1902 has been quite favorable for the work and growth of the Kansas State Historical Society. Aside from the usual liberality in the contributions to our original manuscripts, newspaper files, books, pamphlets and museum features, a characteristic of the year I think is an increased number of interested members. The ambitious citizen now has a better opportunity than ever before of seeing the work of the Society, and state pride, it strikes me, should prompt a large number to seek and maintain membership.

During the period beginning November 1, 1900, and closing June 30, 1902, there have been added to the library 1373 volumes of books; 5371 unbound volumes, and pamphlets; 2019 volumes of newspapers and periodicals; 198 single newspapers and single magazines containing matter of historical interest; 128 maps, atlases and charts; 2469 manuscripts; 397 pictures and other works of art; 219 pieces of scrip and other miscellaneous relics. Thus to the library proper, of books, pamphlets, newspapers, and periodicals, during the period of twenty months, have been added 8763 volumes. Of these, 8511 have been procured by gift and exchange and 252 by purchase.

Below are shown the total accessions to the library, by years, since the beginning:

Efforts have been continued to extend the work of the Society toward the western end of the state, and other parts remote from political operations, and to cover the industrial development and interests of the people. The industrial side of life, agricultural and otherwise, gives activity to all development, and hence it must be the groundwork of all history. A year ago, in the secretary's report it was said: "The most astounding incident in our history came to my attention during the year, and that is the gradual, constant and most remarkable decrease in freight-rates and the improvement in our railway service." The Southern History Association, September number, page 435, criticizing the seventh volume of the collections of this Society, after scoring the book because of certain Kansas features, says: "The secretary in one short paragraph makes a suggestion that is worth more than thousands of pages of 'ringing eloquence' and all this twaddle about female progress. He urges the importance of railroad freight sheets as historical material, evidencing the steady reduction of transportation charges. It is sincerely hoped that the next volume will contain researches of that sort in the place of a portion at least of mushy rehashing." The seventh volume contained papers on the development in Kansas of gypsum, cement and plaster, lead and zinc, natural gas, and commercial orcharding, all of a purely historical trend, and most interesting. Hon. James C. Horton, of Kansas City, has promised a paper on "Business in Kansas—Old Times and Now." Politics and office-holding are not all of history. Neither is it essential that a person must be old in age or citizenship to belong to or participate in the work of this Society.

The Society has been favored the past year with interesting contributions of original papers, letters, and correspondence, concerning politics and public affairs, from Mrs. Sara T. D. Robinson, Samuel N. Wood, John Martin, and George W. Martin. Mrs. Robinson's collection includes letters from John C. Fremont, Henry Wilson, David Wilmot, Nathaniel P. Banks, Andrew H. Reeder, Eli Thayer, Richard C. Drum, James Montgomery, Galusha A. Grow, John Brown, jr., Gaius Jenkins, and others. They are of infinite value touching the slavery contest, leading up to the admission of Kansas. About 500 letters, the correspondence of Samuel N. Wood for a period of four or five years, were found in the subbasement of the state-house. No one knows how they came there. Many of them pertain to railroad building in Kansas. They bear dates from 1870 to 1875, including a few written during the territorial period. John Martin's contribution embraces many books of great value to our collection, with others of importance in exchanging, and several political cartoons of the campaigns of 1840 and 1844, and town plats and local maps of Kansas issued many years ago. These letters throw great light on events, oftentimes mysterious in the absence of some knowledge of the motives of the actors. Many of the Eastern states are largely publishing much correspondence 200 and 300 years old. The state is full of personal letters covering territorial and pioneer days, but much has been lost by the indifference of descendants who fail to appreciate their value.

Mr. Warren Upham, secretary and librarian of the Minnesota Historical Society, writing of a visit to Kansas and the rooms of this Society in August, under date of September 13, 1902, says: "At our council meeting our people were much interested in my report of your admirable library, museum, and portrait collection. It is very encouraging that you now have so fine rooms high up in your capitol. In respect to your newspaper collection, you lead the United States, and are equaled only by the great national library of the British Museum, London, which receives and preserves every newspaper in the United Kingdom. When I was there in 1897, their department of newspapers employed thirteen men and boys in its one branch of that vast and ever-growing library."

Until this year, the collections of this Society have been published once in four years. In the spring of 1902 authority was obtained to publish the seventh volume, the sixth volume having appeared in 1900. Four thousand copies were issued. There has been an increased demand for the book over any other volume, because of the variety of the topics presented and the ability and character of the contributors. It is safe to say that this work of the Society will hereafter be biennial, as other publications of the state. From half a dozen different points the inquiry has come, why the publications of this Society are not in all the school libraries in the state. Many high schools have called for them, and among the common schools there is a growing demand; but it is an interesting question why they are not in more of the schools. The statements on history are from original sources. I do not understand that this great collection is for the sole purpose of being hid under a bushel. There are more valuable data here which have not yet seen the light of day. In preparing the seventh volume, I discovered much of great value filed away by my predecessor—a tribute to the thoroughness and completeness of his work—which has led me to remark that Kansas has more history buried here than some states have made during their entire existence. With biennial publications, the public will get the benefit of this collection in a reasonable time.

The executive council, in cleaning up the basement and subbasement of the capitol building, found thousands of duplicate books, accumulation of all the offices, and of the state's own publications, for forty years, not belonging to any library. They shelved a large room in the basement for duplicates, and placed it in charge of this Society, requiring that we ship out or exchange wherever it was possible. During the year we have found places for 3303 books and 8890 pamphlets. We are engaged in correspondence which will result in the disposition of several hundred more of these volumes. Hon. C. W. Fairchild, of Kingman, suggests that there should be a full collection of legislative journals and other state publications at each county-seat. The legislative journals are exhausted up to about 1870, and since that time the number of each is quite irregular, depending upon the demand for given issues. Since this room has been established many books have been discovered and sent out to where they will be of use. We are constantly looking for schools or libraries where we may place others.

At the suggestion of Col. O. E. Learnard, of Lawrence, and Mr. C. E. Cory, of Fort Scott, I have attempted to gather the record of the towns started and afterwards abandoned in Kansas. A knowledge of the location of several of them, because of their historic prominence, is essential in some respects to a proper understanding of the story of early Kansas, and in a lesser degree with the development of many counties in western Kansas. I have not as full response as I had hoped, but will continue the effort until the list is tolerably complete, if not fully so. Many counties with the most interesting points have made no return as yet, but I have promises that they will be fully reported. Twenty-eight counties report 151 such abandoned towns. Doniphan county leads with twenty-one, and Kearny and Labette follow with twelve each. The incidents gathered so far are of great interest, showing the spirit and sacrifice of those who figured in the beginning of our development.

The application of the legislature for the cession to the state of an acre or so of the Fort Riley reservation, embracing the first capitol building, has not yet received action. It is possible that the question of civil jurisdiction may interfere with a transfer, and render it more advisable, if anything is to be done at all, for the state to make repairs on the building with the title as it is, and to ask only for such consent. In all probability, an acre under state control, inside of the military reservation, would be a lodging-place for the vicious, involving a nuisance to the military or a great responsibility to the state. During the year the site of Pawnee has assumed much importance from the military maneuvers, and which, if they are to be continued, as is apprehended, on a more extensive scale, will give it world-wide fame. It would be exceedingly appropriate for the state to place that building in order, since the point is likely to be a Mecca for the army, the militia and visitors for years to come. The place was established in good faith by the first governor, who had authority, and one of the important clashes in the incipient stage of the great battle occurred in that stone building.

The Society has received as a gift from Franklin B. Sanborn, of Concord, Mass., a bronze bust of himself. It comes from the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, and it was insured in transit for $400. Mr. Sanborn was a friend to Kansas in the early days, and his pen and voice were of great value in creating the circumstances under which our state was born. Daniel W. Wilder will prepare a biography of Mr. Sanborn for the records of the Kansas State Historical Society.

Mrs. Lucy G. Hall, of Labette county, presented the Society with a spinning-wheel made in Strausburg Germany, in 1621, and brought to America in 1700. This wheel has passed by will, one member of the family having possession seventy-six years and another seventy-four years. Mrs. Hall has also left with us a rifle made by her brother, J. W. H. Golden, when he was gunsmith at Fort Leavenworth, during the war of the rebellion. Mr. Golden was severely wounded by proslavery men near Tonganoxie. He was elected sheriff of Leavenworth county in 1858, and commissioned by James W. Denver. Mrs. Hall writes that she expects to move to Texas to spend the remainder of her days, and that she prefers to give what she has to Kansas rather than to Texas.

The Society has received from Charles W. Smith the gun brought to Kansas in 1854 and carried through the territorial trouble by Samuel Walker. Julius Neuman, deceased, of Atchison, willed the Society a sword brought by him from Germany, which we have received through Robert F. Forbriger, the administrator of his estate. Mr. Neuman made the first preemption entry of land in Kansas, April 21, 1857, at the Lecompton office.

J. H. Bonsell, of Arkansas City, has negatives of portraits of members Lecompton constitutional convention, the Wyandotte constitutional convention, the Leavenworth constitutional convention, and of the first free-state legislature. They should be procured, but the Society being without funds for such purposes, there have been no negotiations.

The Society, during the year, lost two valuable friends in the death of Hon. James F. Legate and Hon. Albert H. Horton. They were always active in promoting the collection of history. They themselves constituted an important feature of the history of Kansas.

The levy made by the legislature of 1899 for completion of the state-house, in which the Executive Council was authorized to fit rooms for moving the effects of the State Historical Society by said fund, has been exhausted. Under its provisions, the Society has been most bountifully treated in space and furnishings, the portion of the building allotted to us being more satisfactory as time passes. Years of development and changed conditions rendered the location in the east wing, assigned to the Society by the legislature in 1895 and relinquished November 27, 1900, wholly inadequate and unsuitable. The members of the council have not only been most liberal, but they have shown an interest in our work, by arranging their expenditures as to advance and display results. The Society is under especial obligation to Mr. John F. Stanton, state architect, whose taste and judgment in advising and directing we so frequently needed, and whose never-failing courtesy lightened the task of removal and fitting up. Additional needs from now on will be but a trifle to ask for biennially of the legislature. A result of our handsome accommodations has been to stimulate gifts, adding vastly to the importance of our portrait and museum features, and the care now bestowed by the state attracts interest which, before the completion of the building, was repelled. From 200 to 300 people daily pass through the museum, and it is most gratifying to say that we have not the slightest trouble from meddlers or vandals.

Mr. William J. Griffing, of Manhattan, reported for the committee on "Mounds and Village Sites of the Aborigines," as follows:

Owing to the difficulty, at once apparent, of all the members being able to set aside pressing duties at the same moment and spend any considerable time in field-work along the line of archaeologic explorations, the labors of your committee have been confined to individual efforts.

In company with a neighbor, Mr. J. S. Cunningham, an able assistant in the work, one day was spent, with the consent of the commanding officer, Col. C. C. Carr, in exploring the extreme eastern and western limits of the Fort Riley military reservation and making a cursory examination of some of the numerous Indian burial mounds thereon. The first interesting discovery made was that the monument, on the high bluff near the fort, erected to the memory of Major Ogden, rests upon a large Indian burial mound. Seven mounds were discovered in all; two of them were on the boundary line of the reservation and were marked by corner-stones. One of these mounds, situated at the extreme western limits of the reservation, was examined. An excavation was made, reaching to the bottom of the mound, which was two feet in height and thirty feet in diameter at the base. Nothing was found, however, but a miscellaneous lot of burned human bones, badly broken up and scattered through the mound.

One mound we discovered on a bluff south of the town of Ogden and adjacent to the reservation, on the farm of Mr. V. E. Schermerhorn, in section 17, township 11, range 7, Riley county. It had been opened by relic hunters several years before, but continuing the excavation that had been made, we found a few flint arrow-points, a number of bird-bone beads, shell beads, commonly called "wampum" by the Indians; also, an antique pipe bowl of porcelain, obtained from the whites. This mound was thirty-two feet in diameter at the base and about twenty-eight inches high.

Southwestward, on a neighboring bluff on the farm of Mr. Scheiler, in section 24, township 11, range 6, Geary county, was one of the very largest mounds yet discovered. It was forty-eight feet in diameter at the base and two and one-half feet high. Several days were spent in a systematic exploration of this mound. It was constructed of stone and earth. The stones used were obtained from a neighboring ledge of rock and varied in size from gravel to upward of 100 pounds in weight. There was nothing about this mound to indicate that the bodies or bones had been cremated, as is sometimes the case. It was, in truth, a miniature cemetery. The bones were, with the exception of those of the hands and feet, broken and scattered through the mound. The jaw-bone of a child about two years of age was found, also jaw-bones and scattered teeth of adults—from those who had not yet cut all their teeth to those of the aged, whose teeth had been worn away to the roots. Several spear- and arrow-points of flint, a bone awl, a few wampum beads and quite a large assortment of beads made of bird bones were secured. We also found a small number of glass beads of a light blue color, and identical in every way with some taken from a mound on a high bluff near the mouth of Carnahan creek, Pottawatomie county, some twenty-five miles distant. The evidence is conclusive that the tribe which occupied the territory around the junctions of the Blue and Kansas and Republican and Smoky Hill rivers, prior to the migrations of the Kaws from the Missouri river up the Kansas to the mouth of the Blue, had also had some dealings with the whites—probably French traders, who are known to have traded with the tribes along the Missouri as far as the mouth of the Kansas river prior to 1724.

The secretary reported that he had sold one foreign newspaper file for $35, another for $15, and had received $19.50 in fees for certifying to various papers—total $69.50; all of which had been expended for postage-stamps.

The meeting of the board of directors then adjourned.

AFTERNOON MEETING OF THE SOCIETY.

The following papers were then presented:

“Early Sherman County History and the H. U. A.,” by E. E. Blackman of the Nebraska Historical Society.

“The Story of the Seventh Kansas,” by Simeon M. Fox, adjutant general of Kansas.

“Massacre of Confederates by Osage Indians in 1863,” by W. L. Bartles, of Iola.

The paper of Albert R. Greene on “United States Land-offices in Kansas,” was read by title.

The meeting then adjourned.

ing letters from the original "Osawatomie" Brown and Miss Susan B. Anthony:

NEW MONMOUTH, N. J.

W. H. Smith, Esq., President Kansas State Historical Society:

DEAR SIR—I am in receipt of a notice of twenty-seventh annual meeting. It would afford great pleasure to be with you. Perhaps no state in the Union has so full and perfect history of its birth and growth as your Society contains. I doubt if any state ever made such wonderful progress in everything state-like as the "Ad astra per aspera."

Nothing could afford me more pleasure than again to see my adopted state in modern dress of prosperity, and talk over some of early scenes, but alas! oh, where now are the pioneers of 1854? The answer comes in lapse of years; their works are here, their forms no more.      Very respectfully, { February 25, 1811.

  { November 28, 1902. }

O. C. BROWN.

Geo. W. Martin, Secretary:

ROCHESTER, N. Y., November 28, 1902.

DEAR FRIEND—Your program for the twenty-seventh annual meeting of the Kansas State Historical Society is before me. I should like to be present on that day. It was December 2, 1859, that John Brown was hung, and Parker Pillsbury spoke in our Corinthian hall, and Samuel D. Porter, of our city, said: "It was the only occasion that ever matched Pillsbury's adjectives." That is forty-two years ago. And what a revolution has been wrought in those years!

I think I have never acknowledged the receipt of your last report—volume 7—but I have read a great many of the addresses in it. It is mighty interesting reading. You do well to gather up the facts of the early days. I do wish that Kansas could record that she gave women the right to vote in 1894, but we must wait yet longer. Wishing you a good meeting,

I am, yours very sincerely,      SUSAN B. ANTHONY.

The paper of D. W. Wilder, presenting the bronze bust of Franklin B. Sanborn to the Society, was read by Secretary Martin:

FRANKLIN B. SANBORN.

By Daniel W. Wilder.

From Coronado to White, Kansas has been fortunate in its historians. No accent of its aspirations has been lost. The Historical Society, under Adams and Martin, each year has brought rich sheaves into the garner—Adams freighted with documentary treasure, Martin rejoicing with men in the living present. Very soon some student of Kansas University, born in South Carolina and studying for the degree of doctor of history, will empty into our lap a thesis on Calhounism in Kansas, with a whole volume of citations from southern newspapers and periodicals—as yet an unexplored field.

When Kansas counts over her chosen heroes she finds none equal to John Brown, of Osawatomie, the man who died for men, and whose life and death hastened a national revolution. As Oliver Wendell Holmes sang, on Mrs. Stowe's seventieth birthday:

"All through the conflict, up and down,
Marched Uncle Tom and old John Brown,
One ghost, one form ideal;
And which was false, and which was true,
And which was mightier of the two,
The wisest sibyl never knew—
For both alike were real."

After John Brown had taken the leading part in driving the ruffians from Kansas he determined to attack slavery in its own home. In 1858 his plan was unfolded to six persons, Gerrit Smith, Theodore Parker, Dr. S. G. Howe, George L. Stearns, Thomas W. Higginson, and Franklin B. Sanborn. All of these men had been active with voice, pen, and purse, from early in 1854-'55, in working for freedom in Kansas, and for this reason were selected by Brown as the "secret committee" to raise the money to sustain him and his men while they were preparing to invade a slave state. Three of these men, Howe, Higginson, and Sanborn, visited Kansas-Nebraska in the dark days of the struggle of 1856-'57; and the two last are the only members of the committee now living, Higginson at the age of seventy-seven and Sanborn at seventy. The last of the many books written by each have been published within a few weeks.

F. B. Sanborn graduated from Harvard in 1855, at the age of twenty-three. Between May, 1856, and January, 1857, he passed through all grades of the Kansas committee in Massachusetts, beginning as secretary of the Concord town committee and ending as secretary of the state committee, and temporary member of the national committee. Concord was the home of Emerson and Thoreau, both friends of freedom, and in one of his letters Captain Brown, who twice visited Concord, acknowledged the receipt of substantial favors from the town where once "the embattled farmers stood and fired the shot heard round the world." The guns fired at Harper's Ferry were also heard by all the nations.

The story of Captain Brown needs less to be retold here than in any other locality. Through the efforts of our late secretary, F. G. Adams, there are collected in this Society's archives a larger number of documents relating to John Brown than in all other repositories.

Mr. Sanborn, my friend in college and for nearly fifty years, was not only the coadjutor of the practical abolitionist and martyr, John Brown, but, since slavery was driven from the land by fire and sword, has become a "great heir of fame" by the long years of labor he has devoted to the afflicted classes—the poor, the insane, the blind, and deaf—and to the cause of prison reform.

Kansas and the Historical Society owe him their chief debt of gratitude for the invaluable assistance he gave to John Brown while living and for the biography he wrote after the great soul of the liberator and patriot went marching on.

After learning from Secretary Martin, a few weeks ago, that Mr. Sanborn had sent his bust to this Society, I asked my friend to write for us the outlines of his busy and unselfish life. My request was complied with, and it will be found to be a most valuable addition to the Society's histories of the early and devoted friends of free Kansas. No American during the last half-century has kept better company.

At the termination of the reading the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, Mr. Franklin B. Sanborn, of Concord, Mass., an active and efficient friend of the free-state cause in Kansas during the territorial period, a constant friend and benefactor of this Society since its formation, and the writer of the authorized "Life of Captain John Brown," has presented to the Society a portrait bust of himself made by the distinguished sculptor, Frank E. Elwell, of New York: therefore,

Resolved, That this Society tenders to Mr. Sanborn its grateful thanks for this gift, for the service he has given the state of Kansas since his early manhood, and especially for his book relating to the most important period in the history of Kansas. We take pleasure in assuring our friend that this work of art forms one of the most valued treasures of our rapidly growing collection of the busts and portraits of pioneers and patriots who worked with zeal and success in establishing freedom in Kansas.

The program of papers and addresses then followed:

Address of the president, William H. Smith.

"Along the Trail," by John Madden, read by Secretary Martin.

"The Indian Reservation and its Relation to the Settlement of Kansas," by Annie Heloise Abel, of Lawrence.

"Black Kettle's Last Raid," in 1868, by Hill P. Wilson, then sutler at Fort Hays.

The paper on "Northwestern Kansas," by Frank C. Montgomery, was not presented.

The meeting then adjourned.
